Martinsancho Verdejo 2015 - 12x750

BODEGAS ANGEL RODRÍGUEZ

D.O. Rueda — La Seca

THE WINERY

Martinsancho is Angel Rodríguez' 17th-century vineyard responsible for the preservation of Rueda's indigenous Verdejo grape. Cuttings from here were used in 1976 to establish a 25-acre vineyard planted in the traditional head-pruned fashion and dry-farmed. Low-yield Verdejo apports viscosity and a long finish while retaining a delicate floral nose.

THE WINE

From free-run juice, the new wine is racked into large, centuries-old subterranean oak vessels prior to clarification and bottling. A highly extractive, herbaceous and minerally-complex Verdejo with excellent aging capacity and a perennial hallmark wine for the region.

DETAILS OF WINEMAKING & VITICULTURE

Grapes: 100% Verdejo

Vineyards: Vineyard planted in goblet more than 35 years ago in pebbly ground, grafted with wood selected from an old pre-phylloxera verdejo vineyard handed down to Angel Rodríguez by his ancestors.

Winemaking: The grape is hand picked and upon arriving at the bodega it proceeds to destemming and maceration to extract the greatest quantity of aromas. The free run juice is then collected for fermentation. Fermentation occurs under controlled temperature to avoid losing aromas.

Alcohol: 13%
